VELUSE AGENCY STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE (SOP)DEPARTMENT: Executive Strategy & Revenue RetentionSUBJECT: The Customer Journey & "Ascension Point" MapPURPOSE: To establish Veluse Agency's militant protocol for engineering Lifetime Gross Profit (LTGP) through systematic client ascension. For our Med Spa clients and our internal BioOps infrastructure, acquiring a customer is only the first step. Profit is disproportionately made on the backend, and waiting for a client's contract to expire to ask for a renewal is a fatal error. This SOP dictates the exact mathematical points in the customer journey where an upsell must occur, and the precise scripts our Customer Success (CS) team must use to seamlessly route these clients back to the sales floor.

PART 1: THE PSYCHOLOGY OF ASCENSION (THE OPEN LOOP)

To maximize our Average Order Value and extend the Lifetime Value (LTV) of our enterprise Med Spa clients, we must fundamentally alter how we view the purchasing timeline.
We must visualize ascensions and renewals as an "open loop" that begins the moment the initial sale is made 1. Human psychology dictates that people naturally begin to close this mental loop as they approach the end of a program or service 1, 2. If we wait until the end of their contract to pitch them again, they are forced to make an entirely new, friction-heavy purchasing decision.
Instead, our mandate is to sell them while the loop is most open—in the middle of their journey 1, 2. By pitching the upsell during the engagement, we keep the party going, seamlessly transitioning them into the next tier of our infrastructure without them ever realizing the first engagement was supposed to end 2.

PART 2: THE 5 MATHEMATICAL ASCENSION POINTS

Whenever Veluse Agency or our Med Spa partners make a sale, there are exactly five distinct opportunities embedded in the customer journey to trigger an ascension or upsell 3. We do not rely on random chance; we architect the journey to hit these specific milestones.
Point 1: Immediate (24 Hours Post-Sale)The first ascension point occurs within 24 hours of the initial transaction 2, 3. At this stage, the client is in a hyper-buying cycle. We can immediately offer them an upgrade, "more of that thing they just bought or more help with that thing they just bought," while their emotional commitment is at its absolute highest 4.
Point 2: Time to Value (The Quick Win)This point is triggered when the client experiences their first immediate, quick value point or activation milestone 3. For our AI-infrastructure, this might be the moment the Med Spa books their first three automated appointments. Because we have delivered a rapid result, their trust in our system spikes, making them highly receptive to an upsell that promises to multiply that result 3.
Point 3: The Halfway PointThe halfway mark of any program or service delivery is an arbitrary but highly effective time to ascend clients 2, 3. By pitching at the halfway point, we make the ascension feel like phase two of an incomplete multi-step process, rather than a completely new sale 5-7. We position it as, "you're just completing what you've already started," which dramatically lowers their sales resistance 5, 6.
Point 4: The Big Milestone (The Major Win)This ascension is triggered when the client achieves a major, aspirational win 1, 3. When a Med Spa hits a record-breaking revenue month using our BioOps software, we strike at the point of greatest satisfaction. We celebrate the massive milestone, and immediately pivot to solving the new problems that this growth has created (e.g., needing to hire more staff or open a second location), upselling them into our highest-tier consulting packages 3, 8.

Point 5: Last ChanceThis is the final opportunity before the service term ends 1. Amateur operators wait until this exact moment to try and secure all of their ascensions, which is precisely why they fail to retain clients 1. For Veluse Agency, the "Last Chance" is merely our final safety net, deployed only if the client bypassed the first four highly-optimized conversion points 1.

PART 3: CS TO SALES HANDOFF (THE MILITANT SCRIPTING)

To execute this seamlessly, our Customer Success Managers (CSMs) must function as scouts for the closing team. We align incentives by paying the CSMs a commission for "sets"—meaning they receive a financial kickback for identifying a client who has reached one of the five ascension milestones and successfully passing them back to a Closer 9.
1. The Seamless "Baton Pass" Script:When a CSM identifies that a Med Spa client has hit an ascension trigger (like the Time to Value or Halfway point), they do not hard-close the client themselves. They execute a frictionless handoff by stating: "Hey, I think you should talk to Closer Name, Closer Name can definitely get you set up right" 9. This routes the warm lead directly back to our elite closers.
2. The "Feedback Meeting" Ascension Script:We mandate that the CS team schedule "Feedback" meetings a few weeks into the client's journey 10. This meeting serves three purposes: it provides operational data, saves unhappy customers, and creates a disguised upsell opportunity 10.

- If the client is thrilled, the Closer steps in to sell them on staying for the long haul 10.
- If the client is struggling, we deploy the mandate that "every problem is an upsell opportunity" 11.

3. Upselling the Unhappy Client (The VIP Pivot):If a client complains about a lack of support or difficulty implementing the infrastructure, the CS team or Closer will deploy the following script to upsell them into a premium tier:"Oh, you feel like we haven't given you enough support, then how would you like it if we message you every morning and check in with you weekly. Would that help? Awesome. Then I think you'll be a perfect fit for our VIP program" 11.To guarantee the close and remove all friction, we add the ultimate rollover incentive: "I'll even credit the entire cost of your first program to the VIP program" 11. We turn a dissatisfied client into a high-ticket, premium retainer simply by packaging the solution to their complaint as an upgrade.

PART 4: REFRAMING THE RENEWAL

Finally, when pushing for a standard renewal, our team must completely reframe the conversation in the context of the client's ultimate goals 12. We do not ask them if they want to buy another year of software; we explicitly remind them of their big goal, and position the renewal as the mandatory vehicle required to get them there 12, 13. By continuously moving the goalpost and tying our infrastructure to their evolving aspirations, we engineer a customer journey where remaining a Veluse Agency client is the only logical option 12-14.
