

VELUSE AGENCY STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE (SOP) DEPARTMENT:

Operations & Customer Success SUBJECT: Advanced Revenue & Retention Engineering

(The "Stick" Strategy Bible) PURPOSE: To permanently eradicate month-two churn, maximize Lifetime Gross Profit (LTGP), and engineer absolute client reliance on our Med Spa AI infrastructure. We achieve this by choreographing the customer journey to deliver immediate Time to Value (TTV) and forcing clients to hit mathematical success milestones.

PART 1: THE 6 PRIMARY LEVERS FOR IMPROVING "STICK"

Retention is not a passive outcome; it is engineered. To systematically improve client activation, retention ("stick"), and referrals, we apply six primary levers that directly map to the elements of the Value Equation and the core components of advertising 1.

1. Call Outs (Sell Better Customers): The foundation of retention is acquiring the right client. We must systematically weed out unqualified, low-value Med Spas 2, 3. Customers that extract the most value from our infrastructure possess the most goodwill, and goodwill drives retention and referrals 3. We only sell to Med Spas that have the budget, authority, need, and timing to properly utilize our AI systems 4. 2. Dream Outcome (Set Better Expectations): The fastest and easiest way to make our product remarkable is to make it better than the client expects 5. We deliberately lower the promises we make during the sales process just enough to maximize close rates, allowing us to overwhelmingly over-deliver on the backend 6. 3. Increase Perceived Likelihood of Achievement (Get More People Better Results): We must analyze our most successful Med Spa clients, identify the specific actions they take to get those results, and forcefully engineer our onboarding so that all new clients repeat those exact actions 6, 7. 4. Decrease Time Delay (Get Faster Results): Faster wins increase the client's perception of speed, increase the likelihood they will stick around, and dramatically increase how much they trust Veluse Agency 8. 5. Decrease Effort and Sacrifice (Keep Making Your Stuff Better): We continuously survey our clients to identify points of friction 9. If a Med Spa owner has to do less stuff they hate to benefit from our AI bot, we have made the product better 9. We must ruthlessly delete friction points and unnecessary actions 10, 11. 6. Call To Action (Tell Them What To Buy Next): If a Med Spa gets an amazing result, they will naturally want to buy more 12. If Veluse Agency does not immediately satisfy their desire to ascend by offering the next logical solution, they will buy it from a competitor 12.

PART 2: TIME TO VALUE (TTV) & THE 24-HOUR QUICK WIN PROTOCOL

A customer forms their lasting impression of a business within the first 48 hours after they hand over their credit card 13, 14. This window is highly volatile; if we do not manufacture immediate momentum, buyer's remorse sets in and churn becomes inevitable.

1. The Choreographed Handshake: The transition from Sales to Customer Success is a handshake, not a handoff 14, 15. In the first 24 to 48 hours post-purchase, we must orchestrate a seamless experience 16. The moment the Med Spa owner closes, they must receive a personalized video or voice memo from their account representative, physical swag in the mail, and explicit instructions on what will happen next 14, 17. They must never be left in "no man's land" wondering what to do 18.

2. Manufacturing the "Quick Win": Time to Value (TTV) measures how rapidly a client experiences a tangible benefit after purchasing 19, 20. We must deliver a "Quick Win" immediately to validate their purchasing decision and build the trust required for them to endure the longer setup process 21, 22.

- The Velocity Execution: Rather than waiting weeks to build a massive infrastructure, we establish immediate emotional milestones 21. For Veluse Agency, a quick win could be taking 15 minutes during the onboarding call to properly configure their AI login, immediately integrating their Facebook ad account, or launching a rapid reactivation campaign to book their first high-ticket consult within 7 days 21, 23.
- The BAMFAM Protocol: (Book A Meeting From A Meeting). To maintain momentum and control the TTV timeline, the client must never leave an interaction without the next exact meeting locked into their calendar 18, 24.

PART 3: SUCCESS MILESTONES & MONTH-TWO CHURN PREVENTION

Structural churn occurs when clients do not integrate the product into their daily operations. To prevent Med Spas from dropping off in month two, we do not rely on hope; we rely on "Activation Points."

1. Defining the Activation Point: An activation point is a specific activity or milestone that occurs early in the customer journey that possesses a high statistical correlation with them staying and paying long-term 19, 25.

- Industry Example: Orange Theory discovered their activation point was a member completing five workouts in their first month; Gym Launch realized their activation point was a gym securing a $2,000 sale in their first seven days 26.
- Veluse Application: We must track our data to isolate Veluse Agency's exact activation point. Does a Med Spa stay forever if they import 1,000 contacts into our CRM within 48 hours? Do they stick if the AI bot books 5 appointments in the first week? Once identified, all onboarding resources must be violently redirected toward hitting that single metric 26.

2. Tying Guarantees to Milestones: To ensure Med Spa owners actually complete the required steps to hit these activation points, we weaponize our guarantees. We explicitly match the conditions of our performance guarantees to the exact actions that generate the best results 7.

- The Script: "We guarantee this AI infrastructure will generate $30,000 in new cash collected, provided you import your entire patient database into the CRM within 24 hours, attend all weekly coaching calls, and let the AI handle 100% of the inbound lead flow" 7, 27. By making the guarantee conditional on the activation points, we force compliance, generate faster wins, and permanently lock the client into our recurring ecosystem.
