

VELUSE AGENCY STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE (SOP) DEPARTMENT:

Executive Strategy & Enterprise Acquisition SUBJECT: The $5K Workshop "Clarity" Protocol

PURPOSE: To establish Veluse Agency's operational mandate for executing high-ticket VIP Strategy Days and Workshops for Enterprise Med Spas. This SOP defines why founders willingly pay $5,000 to $90,000 for consulting, and how our executive team will weaponize objective diagnosis and constraint-focus to scale our clients and seamlessly ascend them into our highest-tier AI-infrastructure partnerships.

PART 1: THE CORE VALUE PROPOSITION OF HIGH-TICKET CONSULTING

Amateur agencies mistakenly believe that to charge premium prices, they must provide their clients with an overwhelming amount of new information, complex slide decks, and motivational "rah-rah" energy 1. At Veluse Agency, we recognize that information is effectively free; what elite founders lack is objective clarity.

When a Med Spa owner pays $5,000 for a front-end workshop or $90,000 for an elite backend advisory program, they are not paying for new ideas 2, 3. They are paying for an "objective kick in the ass" that forces them to evaluate their business strictly as an investor looking at an asset 1, 4. We provide immense value by giving them a candid, objective discussion about the reality of their operations, stripping away their emotional attachments to flawed processes and unprofitable service lines 4, 5.

The highest value delivered in these $90,000 tiers comes from "spotlight sessions," where founders are publicly dissected, broken down, and rebuilt by our expert team in front of their peers 2, 6. This environment provides the personalized problem diagnosis and deep constraint mitigation that cannot be found in free online content 7.

PART 2: FOCUS & THE ELIMINATION OF ALTERNATIVES

The true deliverable of a high-ticket workshop is not a mountain of new initiatives; it is an insane amount of focus 4.

For entrepreneurs, new ideas are actually the core problem 3. Founders are inherently ambitious and constantly overshoot their actual resource capacity, spinning too many plates and pursuing random revenue streams that keep them spread too thin 3, 8. To deliver a return on investment (ROI) before the client even leaves the building, our primary job is to force them to "kill off shit" 4. By turning off distractions and eliminating secondary initiatives, the client often pays for the cost of the $5,000 workshop in saved capital and reclaimed time before the event even concludes 4.

This requires forcing the client to adopt a strict definition of commitment. Commitment is the elimination of alternatives 9, 10. Focus is entirely defined by the number of things the founder is willing to say "no" to 9. Strategy is simply the prioritization of limited resources against unlimited options to attack the single bottleneck holding the business back 3, 11, 12. We extract value by zeroing out everything else 3.

PART 3: THE VIP STRATEGY DAY SOP (EXECUTING ON THE CONSTRAINT)

To execute a flawless VIP Strategy Day that forces a Med Spa client to scale rapidly and primes them for a $90,000 Veluse Agency upsell, our executive team will strictly adhere to the following protocol:

Step 1: The Objective Autopsy (Kill the Motivation) The event begins by completely removing any motivational, "feel-good" seminar energy 1. We force the Med Spa owner to look at their clinic objectively. We analyze their metrics to determine if they actually own a sellable asset or merely a glorified, exhausting job 1, 5. This candid reality check sets the dominant frame of authority.

Step 2: The Spotlight Dissection & Constraint Identification Instead of lecturing, we put the Med Spa owner in the "spotlight." We publicly dissect their operations, marketing, and retention levers 2, 6. We ignore the 55 ideas they have for growth and ruthlessly audit the company to find the single constraint that is currently blocking their revenue 3, 11, 13. Once the constraint is identified (e.g., they cannot handle lead volume because their front desk is entirely manual), we isolate it as the only problem that matters.

Step 3: Prune the Tree (The "Stop Doing" List) Before we prescribe new actions, we dictate what they must stop doing. We force the founder to eliminate distracted revenue streams, fire toxic or underperforming staff, and cut bloated vendor costs 4, 8. We prove our value immediately by saving them money and consolidating their mental bandwidth into a laser-focused superpower 4, 8.

Step 4: The 3-to-5 Step Tactical Deliverable We will never let a client leave with a 50-page notebook of overwhelming ideas. Overwhelm causes structural churn. Instead, we provide them with a personalized scaling packet containing exactly three to five clear, actionable next steps designed exclusively to break past their primary constraint 14. This provides them with definitive direction and a high probability of success 8, 15.

Step 5: The Natural Upsell to VAM Level 2 (The $90K Partnership) By the end of the workshop, the Med Spa owner has profound clarity on what they must do to scale, but they will intimately realize they lack the internal infrastructure and expert talent to execute it quickly. This is where we pitch our high-ticket, long-term advisory and AI-implementation partnership (our equivalent to VAM Level 2) 16, 17. We transition the relationship from "we diagnosed your problem" to "we will continuously mitigate your constraints and install the exact AI-sales infrastructure required to scale your enterprise" 15, 17.
