

VELUSE AGENCY STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE (SOP) DEPARTMENT:

Revenue Architecture & Event Monetization SUBJECT: The 'Event & Webinar' Monetization Playbook

PURPOSE: To establish Veluse Agency's elite standard for utilizing virtual and live events to convert cold Med Spa leads into high-ticket AI-infrastructure buyers. This SOP dictates the exact architecture for using community challenges as top-of-funnel lead magnets, and the precise pre-event, during-event, and post-event choreography required to extract massive cash flow from our audience.

PART 1: THE EVENT MONETIZATION STRATEGY

Long-form presentations—such as virtual summits, webinars, and live events—are the most powerful vehicles for converting cold traffic into high-ticket buyers 1, 2. In general, the more expensive your offer, the more education and exposure the audience requires before making a purchasing decision 1.

We do not use events simply to teach; we use them to systematically destroy the prospect's limiting beliefs 1. A highly effective event presentation provides immense value through entertainment and life lessons, builds massive goodwill, and specifically targets three core limiting beliefs: that results must come easily, that they must get the best results possible, and that results must lead to attention and approval 1-3. By breaking these beliefs over a 60-to-90 minute webinar or a multi-day event, we warm cold leads into eager buyers 1, 2.

PART 2: THE COMMUNITY CHALLENGE TO BOOT CAMP FUNNEL

To maximize our lead generation and ascension for our Med Spa clients, we do not simply ask for a high-ticket sale immediately. We utilize a highly choreographed challenge funnel that transitions prospects from free to low-ticket to high-ticket.

1. The Free Virtual Challenge (Top of Funnel): We run paid Facebook or Meta ads directed to a 5-day free virtual challenge hosted inside a Facebook or Skool community 4, 5. During this challenge, we provide daily teaching, training, and Q&A sessions 5.

2. The Boot Camp Upsell (Mid-Funnel): At the end of a free weekly webinar or challenge, we offer a bonus: if the prospect buys a ticket to enter our private community, they receive a free ticket to a 3-to-5 day intensive boot camp 6, 7. Normally, these boot camps cost a few hundred dollars, but we bundle it as an irresistible bonus to drive massive community sign-ups 6, 7.

3. The High-Ticket Mentorship (Bottom of Funnel): We pack the 3-to-5 day virtual boot camp with so much intense, actionable information that attendees feel they cannot miss a single day 7, 8. The ultimate purpose of this boot camp is to upsell the most engaged attendees into our premium, high-ticket mentorship or done-for-you (DFY) service 6. For those who cannot afford the high-ticket price, they remain in the low-ticket community where we continue to nurture them until they are financially ready to ascend 6.

PART 3: THE EVENT CHOREOGRAPHY (PRE, DURING, & POST)

To ensure we maximize cash collected and leave no money on the table, every Veluse-managed event must follow a strict three-phase choreography.

Phase 1: Pre-Event (The Tease & Qualification)

- The Whisper & Tease: When launching a new event, we whisper to our audience 4 to 6 weeks out 9. At 14 days out, we begin the "Tease" phase, revealing the hard information about the event, how it satisfies their dream outcome, and showing examples of success 9. At 3 days out, we shout the call-to-action from the rooftops 9.
- Pre-Call VSLs: Before anyone gets on a sales call post-webinar, they must be sent to a Video Sales Letter (VSL) 10, 11. This video preemptively addresses their biggest concerns, explains what to expect, and handles the pain and promise before human intervention is required 10, 11.

Phase 2: During-Event (The High-Ticket Pitch)

- Teach and Overcome: During the actual event sessions, the speaker must actively teach while simultaneously addressing and overcoming the audience's objections 12.
- Sell the Annual/High-Ticket First: If you are running a 5-day selling event, you must only sell the most expensive, annual, or premium high-ticket package during the live pitch 13, 14. Do not offer a cheap monthly option during the main event 13, 14.
- The "Annual Exclusive" Bonus: To force immediate action, attach one or two massive, exclusive bonuses—such as a premium physical product—that are only available if they purchase the annual/high-ticket offer before the cart closes 14-16.
- The 15-Minute Stack: The transition to the pitch should be seamless: "If today was valuable, do you mind if I just tell you a little bit more about what we do?" 17. From there, you execute a 15-minute offer stack and close 17.

Phase 3: Post-Event (The Mop-Up Campaign & Quarterly Cleanup)

- The "Mop-Up" Downsell Campaign: Immediately after the live event cart closes on the high-ticket offer, we launch a mop-up campaign 14, 15. We retarget everyone who saw the ads or attended the event and offer them the lower-ticket monthly option (e.g., $27/month) 14, 15.
- Removing the Bonuses: The critical rule of the mop-up campaign is that you must remove the exclusive bonuses offered during the live event 14, 15. This creates a legitimate second cart close, protecting the integrity of your high-ticket buyers while sweeping up all remaining cash flow from hesitant prospects 14.
- The Quarterly Cleanup (Rinse & Repeat): We deploy this entire conversion mechanism (the challenge or event funnel) once every quarter to clean up our lead list 18, 19. We run all of our accumulated leads from Q1, Q2, and Q3 through this high-converting funnel to monetize non-buyers 18.
- Changing the Wrapper: To prevent audience fatigue, we do not change the core offer or the fulfillment; we simply change the "wrapper" or the name of the challenge each quarter based on seasonality (e.g., "Lean by Halloween" or "Slim for Santa") 20, 21.
