

VELUSE AGENCY STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE (SOP)
DEPARTMENT: Sales & Revenue
SUBJECT: The Objection Handling Bible
PURPOSE: To provide Veluse Agency consultants with the exact frameworks to systematically dismantle distortions of reality (objections) from Med Spa owners. We do not argue; we reframe. We use logic to anchor emotional desires, and we rely on the A.A.A. Protocol to maintain absolute frame control.

PART 1: THE A.A.A. REFRAINING PROTOCOL

The best salespeople do not defensively "handle" objections; they ethically reframe them 1, 2. When an average closer hears an objection, they go on the defensive and fire back with an answer 1. At Veluse Agency, we recognize that answering a question puts the prospect in control as the "judge, jury, and executioner" 3, 4. Instead, we use the A.A.A. framework to turn objections into reasons to buy 2.

1. Acknowledge (A): It is basic human nature to want to feel validated 5. When the prospect raises a concern, say it back to them in your own words 5, 6. This disarms the tension, proves you are actively listening, and buys you 3-5 seconds of critical time to process your next move 5, 7, 8. Never disagree with a prospect; you cannot win a sale by winning an argument 9, 10. Be like smoke—impossible to catch or fight 9, 10. Execution: "Totally understand. It's a significant financial commitment, and you want to be completely aligned..." 5, 11.

2. Associate (A): This is the pattern interrupt. Associate their objection with the behavior of your most successful clients, or tie it to a positive, rational character trait 5, 12, 13. This frames their objection as smart behavior, removing their defensiveness 14. Execution: "That's actually a really smart question. We find our best Med Spa clients are always the most careful when investing their capital" 5, 13.

3. Ask (A): The person asking the questions is the one in control of the conversation 14-16. After acknowledging and associating, immediately ask a question that pushes past the surface-level smoke screen and forces them to reveal their true concern 12, 14. No one can disagree with a question 9, 10. Execution: "If we completely solved X for your clinic today, what would be the single reason you might still hesitate to move forward?" 14, 17.

PART 2: LOGIC VS. EMOTION REFRAMING

Emotional buyers will get excited, buy on the call, and then call you two days later with buyer's remorse saying, "I don't know why I did this" 18, 19. You must recognize that prospects already want to buy your solution emotionally; your job is to help their logical brains justify the decision 20, 21. If you build a rational foundation for the decision, the logic will remain long after the emotions fade 18, 19.

The Best-Case / Worst-Case Logical Close: When a prospect is paralyzed by the fear of making a mistake, use logic to neutralize their worst-case scenario 22. Script: "Let's consider the options logically. Option 1: You do this, you get the result, and your clinic scales. Option 2: You don't do this, you don't get the result, and you stay exactly where you are. Option 3: You do this, you don't get the result, I give you your money back, and you just got six weeks of our consulting for free. They are all risk-free except for one of them. Which risk-free option do you want? The one that guarantees you stay stuck, or the one with the potential to get you where you want to go?" 23-25.

PART 3: THE TOP 10 HIGH-TICKET OBJECTIONS MATRIX

Prospects will cast their power away to three things: Circumstances (Time/Money), Other People (Partners/Spouses), or Themselves (Avoidance/Fear) 26-28. Use this matrix to dismantle the 10 most common objections using Veluse Agency's approved scripts.

Objection Category, Underlying Psychology, The Veluse Agency Rebuttal Script

"1. ""It's too expensive"" / ""I can't afford it""", "Value/Resourcefulness. If you offered them a Ferrari for $5,000, they would find the money 29, 30. The objection is a lack of perceived value, or a fear of failure 31, 32.", ""Is this a lot of money to you? Yes. That's amazing, because the fact that this investment feels tight for you is exactly why you'll succeed. You're going to work harder to make it pay off. The best case studies always come from people in your exact situation. Let's find a way to make this work."" 32-36"

"2. ""I need to think about it""", "Avoidance. They are stalling out of fear of making a mistake. You must confront the fear directly 16, 37, 38.", ""I completely understand. But usually, it doesn't take time to make a decision; it takes information. I'm your source of information, and you have me right here. What are you most afraid of having happen if you do this?" 39-41"

"3. ""I need to talk to my partner/spouse""", "Authority/Foil. They are using a third party as a shield. Isolate the partner as a foil and appeal to past agreements 32, 42, 43.", ""I totally respect that. Do they know you are struggling with your clinic's lead flow? Yes. Do they approve of that struggle? No. Then why would they oppose you solving a problem they already disapprove of? It sounds like you need their support, not their permission."" 32, 44, 45"

"4. ""I don't have time right now""", "Priority. If they want the result to last, they must learn to build the infrastructure while they are busy 46-49.", ""Busy is actually the best time to do this. If you learn how to scale your systems when you're busy, you'll know how to do it for the rest of your life. If you only build this when you're not busy, it will fall apart the moment life gets crazy again, wouldn't it?" 32, 50, 51"

"5. ""I've been burned by other agencies before""", "Past Failure. They are letting past trauma dictate future success. Reframe the past failure as a lesson 52, 53.", ""I completely understand. But don't let a bad investment burn you twice: once when you lost the money, and a second time by letting that fear stop you from making a good investment today. Let's look at why that failed, so we can guarantee this time is different."" 32, 52, 54-56"

"6. ""I'm not sure this is a fit for my specific Spa""", "Special Snowflake/Preference. They think their situation is uniquely immune to proven systems 57, 58.", ""If this program were absolutely perfect for your clinic, would you do it? Yes. Okay, then what is the exact difference between perfect and what we've talked about today? What are we missing?" 58-60"

"7. ""Give me a few months, I'll do it later""", "Delay/Urgency. They want the result but want to avoid the immediate discomfort of change 25, 61.", ""If you're going to fix your clinic's revenue eventually, you might as well start fixing it now so you can start enjoying the fruits of that labor sooner. Would you prefer making more money faster, or slower?" 25, 61, 62"

"8. ""I can just figure this out on my own / I want to watch your free stuff""", "Time Tax of Ignorance. They value their money more than their time 63, 64.", ""You should absolutely watch the free content. But the reality is, you're going to pay for this infrastructure either way. Do you want to pay for it in 12 weeks with us, or 12 years of trial and error on your own? Which one is actually more expensive?" 64-66"

"9. ""Your competitor is cheaper""", "Price Comparison. They are trying to commoditize your service. Force them to articulate your unique value 67, 68.", ""If ours was the exact same price as theirs, which one would you choose? Them: Yours. Why is that? Let them list your benefits. Right, and that is exactly why we charge more."" 67, 68"

"10. ""I don't like Specific Minor Feature of the Deal""", "Detail Death Trap. Deals die in the details. Chunk up to the macro goal 69, 70.", ""I understand you want Specific Feature. If we took care of that one detail for you, or completely removed it, would that solve the problem and allow us to move forward?"" 69, 71, 72"
