

VELUSE AGENCY STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE (SOP) DEPARTMENT:

Revenue & Finance Architecture SUBJECT: The $100M Money Model

Architecture PURPOSE: To establish a strategic sequence of offers that maximizes Med Spa customer value and accelerates cash flow. A successful Money Model ensures that the profit generated from a single customer covers the acquisition cost of many, removing cash flow constraints and allowing for rapid, profitable scaling 1, 2.

PART 1: THE FOUR BUCKETS OF A MONEY MODEL

A $100M Money Model organizes our offers into a deliberate sequence across three stages of monetization: getting cash, getting more cash, and getting the most cash 3, 4. We categorize our offers into these four tactical buckets:

1. Attraction Offers (Stage I: Get Cash)

- Definition: The initial mechanism designed to convert strangers into paying customers immediately and solve initial cash constraints 3, 4.
- Veluse Application: This is the entry point. We use highly compelling front-end offers—like "Win Your Money Back" challenges, free giveaways, or decoy offers—to drive initial commitment and acquire the Med Spa patient at a break-even or profit 5.

2. Upsell Offers (Stage II: Get More Cash)

- Definition: Offers presented immediately after the initial purchase to maximize 30-day profits by providing solutions to the next immediate problem the core offer reveals 3, 4, 6.
- Veluse Application: Once a Med Spa client purchases a basic neurotoxin package, we immediately offer dermal fillers or premium skincare lines. We always have "more, better, or newer" complementary stuff to offer when the time is right 7.

3. Downsell Offers (Stage II: Get More Cash)

- Definition: Strategic offers used to capture prospects who initially hesitated and said "no" to the premium price 3, 4. We tweak payment terms or features to lower the barrier to entry, ensuring we make a sale 4, 6.
- Veluse Application: If a Med Spa owner rejects our $30,000 upfront AI infrastructure buildout, we do not lower the price of that same buildout. We downsell to a lighter version with fewer features or a flexible payment plan 8, 9.

4. Continuity Offers (Stage III: Get The Most Cash)

- Definition: Offers focused on establishing predictable, recurring revenue streams by providing ongoing value for ongoing payments, maximizing the total lifetime value (LTV) of the customer 3, 4.
- Veluse Application: This is the monthly retainer for our AI bot maintenance, daily sales coaching, and CRM hosting. We secure long-term revenue using continuity bonuses or waived setup fees for long-term commitments 5.

PART 2: THE "ROLLOVER UPSELL" FRAMEWORK

The Core Philosophy: Take a customer's previous purchase and apply it as a credit or discount toward their next, more expensive purchase 10, 11.

How to Execute the Rollover Upsell:

1. Acknowledge the Previous Spend: Start by highlighting the money they have already invested with you 12.

2. Spread the Credit: Take the previous purchase amount and either apply it toward a much bigger premium package or spread it across months 12, 13. For example, if a client paid $600 for a 6-week challenge, you do not just give them the $600 back; you offer to apply it as $50 off per month for a 12-month continuity membership 11, 13.
3. Offer Something Better/New/Different: The new offer they are rolling their credit into must be highly desirable 12.
4. Add Urgency: Put a time limit on when they can apply this "rollover" credit to force a decision 12.

Veluse Med Spa Example: "You paid $300 for your basic consultation and skin mapping session last month. We can transfer that $300 as an immediate discount toward our premium 6-month facial rejuvenation package today" 12.

PART 3: THE "FEATURE DOWNSELL" FRAMEWORK

The Core Philosophy: Never, ever lower the price of the exact same product or service. If you drop the price of a $5,000 package to $400, the client will realize you were trying to rip them off and you will permanently destroy their trust 8. Instead, lower the price by changing what they get 9, 14.

How to Execute the Feature Downsell:

1. Reduce Quantity: Offer fewer sessions per month (e.g., instead of four Med Spa visits a month, downsell to two) 9.
2. Reduce Quality/Materials: Substitute premium materials for standard ones 9.
3. Remove the Guarantee: If you offer an iron-clad money-back guarantee, remove it for the lower price tier. The guarantee costs you nothing to offer, but the moment you remove it, the customer suddenly realizes its immense value 9, 14.
4. Shift from "Done-For-You" to "Do-It-Yourself": Downsell from a fully managed service to providing them the templates and software to do it themselves 5.

PART 4: THE GRAND SLAM FLOWCHART (Free Giveaway to High-Ticket Continuity)

To maximize lifetime gross profit, we must choreograph the sales process so a lead moves seamlessly from a frictionless free entry point all the way to high-ticket recurring revenue 15.

Step 1: Attract (The Free Giveaway / Lead Magnet)

- Action: Offer a high-value, free diagnostic tool or lead magnet (e.g., a free AI audit of their current Med Spa lead response times) 16.
- Objective: Convert a cold stranger into an engaged lead by revealing a massive, painful gap in their business that only Veluse Agency can solve 16, 17.

Step 2: Up Front Cash (The Attraction Offer)

- Action: Pitch an initial "Quick Win" offer or paid trial (e.g., a 7-day lead reactivation campaign for a small upfront fee) 5, 18.
- Objective: Liquidate the initial acquisition cost immediately. The prospect pays with their wallet, qualifying them as a serious buyer 19.

Step 3: The Upsell (The Rollover Framework)

- Action: At the moment of maximum satisfaction (when they see the quick win results), execute the Rollover Upsell 10, 12.
- Objective: Say, "We've already generated $5,000 in reactivated patients. Let's roll the cost of that initial trial into our ultimate high-ticket AI infrastructure buildout." 12.

Step 4: The Downsell (The Feature Downsell)

- Action: If they balk at the high-ticket price, instantly deploy the Feature Downsell 4, 8.
- Objective: Say, "If the full 'Done-For-You' buildout is too steep, we can provide you the exact AI scripts and software for a fraction of the price, but you and your front desk will have to manage the integration yourselves, and it does not come with our performance guarantee" 5, 9.

Step 5: Continuity (The Lifetime Upgrade)

- Action: Lock the client into a recurring billing cycle 4, 20.
- Objective: Offer a "Waived Fee" continuity model: "If you commit to 12 months of our infrastructure maintenance, we will completely waive the $5,000 setup fee. If you cancel early, the $5,000 fee becomes due" 21-23. This guarantees retention and maximizes total lifetime value 4, 22.
